“The name of our proper connection to the earth is ‘good work,’ for good work involves much giving of honor. It honors the source of its materials; it honors the place where it is done; it honors the art by which it is done; it honors the thing that it makes and the user of the made thing.” —WENDELL BERRY, 1934-2026

this season,

Wendell Berry’s reflections on honor inspire us to celebrate the good work of the makers among us and the artistry of our community. Welcoming you to our Riverside Studios in Napa honors not only creativity, but also our deep connection to a landscape of breathtaking natural wonder. We are thrilled to open the doors to our brand-new ceramics studio and introduce the new artists who will encourage and guide you as you shape your talents. Working with clay honors one of humanity’s most elemental, earth-bound materials—a material that has carried stories, stored harvests, shaped homes, sparked invention, and connected civilizations for millennia. In our studio, that ancient material becomes immediate and playful again: something to shape and transform with your own two hands.

why you’ll love getting muddy at our “mud club hub”

- hands-on magic: Squish, pinch, and spin clay into something only you could make!
- riverside inspiration: Create beside the Napa River, where artmaking meets fresh air, natural beauty, and a little everyday wonder.
- creative company: Join a welcoming community of makers, dreamers, and clay-covered collaborators who celebrate the care, humor, and heart of local artists.

come see what’s taking shape! Find details for our upcoming Open House on September 19 + 20 in the ceramics section of our flier.

The Nimbus Arts of today is something we could scarcely have imagined at the beginning. Yet looking at it now, we see it will always be a place beautifully, and mischievously alive with possibility. Virginia Berry—daughter of Wendell Berry—writes deeply about our responsibility to cultivate rootedness within our communities, asking a vital question: “What can you do to belong to your community?” It is our deepest hope that through our shared work, creativity, and evolution, we are living out the answer to that question. We strive to be as deeply embedded in this community as the very clay in the ground beneath our feet.

This season we are thrilled also to introduce an expanded lineup of art instructors and creative mediums, designed to inspire you beyond your wildest dreams. We invite you to come explore, play, gather, and join our community as we sculpt art, connection, and life together this season.

See you soon!

—JAMIE GRAFF, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

All mugs will be glazed and fired after the workshop and ready to pick up at Nimbus 2–3 weeks later. $95

sailors valentine: Vintage Shell Crafting

Instructor: Kari Martin
Sailors’ Valentines originated in the mid 1800’s. Most Sailors’ Valentines came from the West Indies island of Barbados, a Port of Call for American and English ships. Sailors would buy or trade items for these romantic nautical tokens as gifts to take home to their loved ones during long voyages at sea. The Valentines were often made on board, or in wooden boxes adorned with local shells. Traditional designs include hearts, flowers, & stars. Many of the Valentines included sentimental messages such as, “To Sweetheart” and “Forget-Me-Not”. First and third Saturdays of each month! | Instructor: Kari Martin aka Kare Bear
Our goal for our Youngest Artist series is...MESSY MUCKING ABOUT IN ART. We encourage our mini artists to play and explore, exposing them to a variety of media to set their young minds free. Toddlers and their adult studio partners can do some free-form, heavyweight, mixed-media, no-holds-barred creations in 2D and 3D, using paint, ceramics, collage, construction, found objects, and of course a bit of glitter. We want your young ones not only to create, but also to immerse themselves, use all their senses, and experience the moment. A wonderful opportunity to work with your little guys and gals, empower their creative energy and applaud their budding, un-bent sense of style and color. $30/class
